Independence Day celebration at ICAR- Directorate of Cashew Research, Puttur

The 74th Independence Day celebration was held at the ICAR- Directorate of Cashew Research, Puttur at Mottettadka, Puttur. At 8.55 in the morning, the Director of the Institute, Dr. Mr. Gangadhar Nayak hoisted the national flag and delivered Independence day message. He said that the country is now on the development track and we as citizens need to work towards this cause. In addition, he mentioned that recent internal strife and riots have been handled by governments very effectively and this again requires the cooperation of the people.

Highlighting the achievements of the institute, he said that the Directorate has made a lot of progress recently. Especially the world-class cashew Museum has been set up here. In addition, we have also developed the unique and worldwide applicable “Cashew India” android app. It is useful for cashew farmers and stakeholders, he said. He said that a state-of-the-art laboratory under the sponsorship of RKVY has been set up in the institute. He added that for cashew area expansion in Shirmoga, Chitradurga, Dakshina Kannada and Udupi districts, the institute has received RKVY grants. In addition, the institute’s proud silver jubilee building is all set to open. He said more work needs to be done for the development of the institute. At the same time, the he congratulated the entire scientist, technical and supporting staff for these achievements.

The event was attended by all scientists, technical officers, administrative officers and staff members of the organization and other employees.
